Subject: California & Vermont Lead-Free Laws

To whom it may concern:

Please be advised. The states of California and Vermont have enacted legislation (AB1953 & Act 193, respectively) to limit the lead content in plumbing components and fixtures that are intended to convey drinking water for human consumption. Lochinvar Corporation confirms that all its Water Heaters and potable water Storage tanks are in compliance with the intent of these laws.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,
